27 Die In Crash Of Chartered Plane

Carried 66 GI's Homeward Bound For Thanksgiving

SEATTLE (AP) — A fiery midnight crash of a faltering airliner, chartered by soldiers to speed them homeward from the Far East, killed 27 passengers in a residential area Friday.

Seventy-four persons were aboard the DC4 as at least one of its four powerful engines spluttered and possibly failed after taking off from Boeing Field. Forty soldiers were taken to hospitals with injuries. Nineteen were released by noon. A woman and three children escaped with only bruises.

Five of the soldiers were reported in critical condition. The three members of the crew of the Peninsular Air Transport Co., of Miami Springs, Fla., survived.

President Spends Nearly 3 Hours At His Desk

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (P) — President Eisenhower spent nearly three hours at his office Friday the longest period at his desk since his heart attack.

About an hour of the time was devoted to going over, with Secretary of State Dulles, the radio-TV speech Dulles drafted for his report to the nation Friday night on the deadlocked Big Four conference meeting just concluded in Geneva.

The careful attention Eisenhower gave to the speech emphasized Eisenhower's current concern with foreign policy. Other appointments, however, too, on this broad theme.

Presidential callers Friday included Dillon Anderson, Eisenhower's top adviser on National Security Council affairs; Chairman Lewis Strauss of the Atomic Energy Commission, and Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, commander of North Atlantic Treaty Organization forces in Europe.

Shortly after Dulles left for the airport to return to Washington, Eisenhower left his office for his country home.

The President had driven into town at 10:10 a.m. with a cheery "good morning" to onlookers shivering in the morning chill.

Although he is picking up more and more of the scattered strands of official business, Eisenhower still is following a comparatively slow pace during his continued convalescence from his Sept. 24 heart attack.

Warning

CHICAGO (P) — The Weather Bureau Friday night put out this special weather warning:

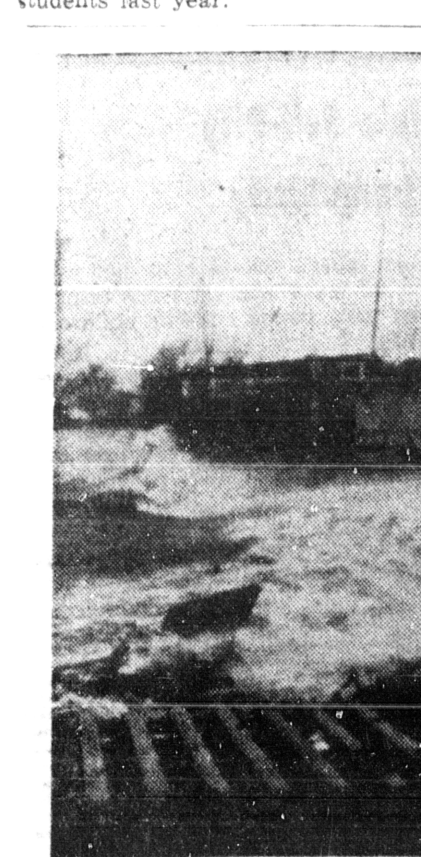

"Snow over north and central portions of Illinois and Indiana and southern lower Michigan will accumulate two to four inches tonight ending in Illinois by early Saturday and over Indiana and southern lower Michigan Saturday morning or by early afternoon. Snow will probably become mixed with rain in the extreme southern portions of this area before ending. Motorists are advised to use every caution due to slippery roads and poor visibilities in snow. Snow to the north of this area in Wisconsin and northern lower Michigan is not expected to be quite as heavy."

HIGH-PRESSURE RECRUITING — WASHINGTON (P) — The Air Force says high-pressure recruiting does not bring the best results. Reporting on tests designed to determine which men would be good recruiters, the Air Force says "persons with coercive tendencies—a tendency to force others to act in a manner contrary to their own wishes—did not promote recruiting."

COLLEGE ENROLLMENT UP — WASHINGTON (P) — Samuel M. Brownell, commissioner of education, estimates that a record 2,716,000 students enrolled in the nation's colleges and universities this fall. This is 8.6 per cent higher than the previous peak of 2,500,000 students last year.

FINE RED PAPER IN PARIS — PARIS (P) — A Paris district court Friday fined the Communist newspaper L'Humanite 80,000 francs ($228) for publishing false accounts concerning troops who protested against being sent to North Africa.

Didn't Plant Bomb On UAL Plane, Graham Claims

DENVER (P) — John Gilbert Graham claimed in a jail cell interview Friday he did not plant a time bomb on the United Air Lines plane which exploded and killed his mother and 43 others.

"I'm not in the habit of doing anything like that. I respect other people's lives as much as my own," said the 23-year-old Graham.

He told a reporter he did not remember signing what federal authorities termed a "written admission" that Graham placed an explosive in the luggage of his mother before she boarded the plane.

"At no time did I put anything into my mother's luggage," Graham insisted.

He is charged with the murder of his mother, Mrs. Daise King, 54. Police claim he plotted to blow up the plane to get $37,500 insurance he took out on his mother's life at the airport.

Graham insisted Friday that his mother did all the packing for her trip to visit a daughter in Anchorage, Alaska. He said his only connection with his mother's three bags was to carry them.

Graham's statement conflicted with that of his wife, Gloria, 22, who said her husband put a jewelry drill kit in one of Mrs. King's bags as a Christmas gift. Graham explained he planned to buy such a gift but did not have the money at the time. Jewelry-making was one of Mrs. King's hobbies.

Roger Touhy Tries To Win Release From Prison

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (P) — Prohibition gangster Roger (The Terrible) Touhy has begun a new effort to win his release from prison.

He filed a motion with the Illinois Supreme Court for leave to appeal as a poor person from a conviction and 199-year sentence in Will County for participating in a 1942 break from Stateville Penitentiary at Joliet.

Touhy, whose earlier effort to win freedom was blocked by the U. S. Court of Appeals, wrote to the Will County circuit clerk recently seeking background information on the case. The information was supplied to him.

Touhy also is serving a 99-year sentence for the 1934 kidnaping of Jake (The Barber) Factor.

Last year, U. S. District Court Judge John P. Barnes ordered Touhy's release on grounds his kidnaping conviction was obtained on perjured evidence and that the 199-year sentence for escape was "cruel and unusual punishment."

However, the U. S. Court of Appeals overturned Judge Barnes' decision and later refused a rehearing.

Do-It-Yourself Craze Makes Homes Danger Spots

KANSAS CITY (P) — The do-it-yourself craze is helping make the home more dangerous than traffic, a researcher declared Friday.

A big reason is that hobbyists just don't read instructions, and get themselves in trouble, said Mrs. Marian Gleason, University of Rochester School of Medicine and Dentistry.

There's no control "over the health and safety of the home hobbyist," she told the American Public Health Assn.

There's no guidance "except the instructions prepared by manufacturers of do-it-yourself materials for their safe and efficient use, and the warning labels on chemical products to indicate their potential toxicity and the necessary precautions which should be observed by the user."

"As a result, home is becoming more hazardous than traffic, if one can accept the combined home and farm accident statistics, and stories of mashing and manglings, poisonings, burnings and crippling falls which compete with auto accidents for space in our daily papers."

Amateur painters fall from ladders, amateur photographers sometimes poison themselves in experimenting with chemicals in poorly ventilated dark rooms, children may eat or drink various hobbyist materials left within reach by careless adults; gardeners may become poisoned by careless use of powerful insecticides or other chemicals; the stamp collector may keep his face too close to an open bottle of carbon tetrachloride; father slices his fingers on a machine that has no safety guard.

Top Soviet Leaders Get Roaring Welcome From Crowds In India

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin and party chief Nikita S. Khrushchev got a roaring welcome Friday on their arrival for an 18-day state visit in India. Special trains, buses and trucks were provided by the government of Prime Minister Nehru for many thousands for and near to join the welcome. These and other hordes who came in bullock carts and afoot were estimated to total a million people along the 12-mile route in from the military airport.

Moroccan Sultan Announces End Of Protectorate

RABAT, Morocco (P) — Sultan Mohammed Ben Youssef announced Friday the end of the 43-year-old French protectorate over Morocco. But he gave it a reprieve until a new treaty can be made with France.

It took nine months to negotiate a home rule pact between France and its other North African protectorates, Tunisia, Morocco, Tunisia—unlike Morocco—already had an effective home government when the treaty talks started.

Ben Youssef has just returned from more than two years exile in Madagascar, where he was sent for his nationalist ideas. He made his first speech from the throne Friday.

Tension has lessened so much that cautious U. S. Air Force authorities have lifted most of their restrictions on some 12,000 American airmen and their families attached to the big bomber bases. Ben Youssef has made no public mention of the U. S. bases and did not speak of them Friday when he received U. S. Minister Julius Holmes, who brought him greetings from President Eisenhower.

The Sultan did recall to Holmes that the United States and Morocco have maintained a treaty of friendship since 1787 and added, "We hope peace will reign everywhere, but if God wills that there should be war, our countries will remain friends."

He asked Holmes for the latest report on the President's health and seriously invited Eisenhower to come to Morocco, "where he will find two things to help him—the fine weather which you have seen today and warm hearts to greet him."

Under the protectorate, all Morocco's foreign relations have been handled by France, but the United States has maintained direct contact with the monarch through its minister at Tangier under terms of the 1787 treaty.

Frank Everly of the Des Moines (Iowa) Register and Tribune was named vice president.

Coleman A. Harwell of the Nashville Tennessean was elected secretary.

The officers were elected by the Board of Directors of the association a few hours after eight directors had been named for three-year terms.

Dulles Reports On Geneva

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said Friday night that despite the Geneva conference deadlock "this country will never admit defeat" in its quest for enduring world peace.

"I know," Eisenhower said, "that no setback, no obstacle to progress will ever deter this government and our people from the great effort to establish a just and durable peace."

The President's expression on future dealings with Russia and other powers was disclosed in a major foreign policy address by Secretary of State Dulles in which Dulles reported on the Big Four foreign ministers talks in Geneva.

Dulles said Eisenhower assured him during talks at Gettysburg that he fully shares the secretary's view that the Geneva meeting "need not be an end" to future negotiations with the Soviet Union. Quoting the President from verbatim notes he took while at Gettysburg, Dulles said Eisenhower told him:

"Success may be long in coming but there is no temporal force so capable of helping achieve it as the strength, the might, the courage of the 165 million Americans. In striving toward this shining goal this country will never admit defeat."

Dulles said the big reason the West failed to make a single agreement with Russia at Geneva was that the Soviet "is not yet willing to pay the price needed to get these results."

The big problems taken up at Geneva by the Big Four foreign ministers were German unity, disarmament and development of more East-West contacts.

Dulles said in his speech nothing that happened at Geneva makes war more likely with Russia. President Eisenhower, he recalled, said he believed the Big Four summit conference in July made war less likely.

That estimate still stands, the secretary said, following the just-concluded foreign ministers conference.

However, Dulles predicted Russia will "continue its efforts by means short of war" to spread communism throughout the world.

Still, he said, while "the cold war in the sense of peaceful competition will inevitably go on," he hopes this rivalry "will not entail all the same hostility and animosity which so defiled the relations between us in the past."

The speech was gone over word by word by President Eisenhower and Dulles at Gettysburg earlier Friday; the President wrote in some changes in the draft Dulles took him.

Dulles said the foreign ministers meeting of Russia, America, Britain and France "does not require us to alter the general scope" or size of American defense and foreign aid programs.

He said the United States never has lowered its guard in answer to Russian promises and gov-

FUTURE GROWS CLEARER

With President Eisenhower's move back from Denver, some of the uncertainty that has beclouded his future since the fateful heart attack of Sept. 24 has begun to disappear. Firm dates now dot his calendar.

Most of the time in November and December he will live and work at his farm in Gettysburg, except for brief trips for special meetings at the White House. Of greater interest is the program that seems to be shaping up for him after Jan. 1, when he is expected to resume living in Washington.

Reports from the capital have it that some time between Jan. 20 and Feb. 8 the President will decide and make known whether or not he will run for a second term.

This assumes, you will note, that he will not have decided before that time. Evidence is mounting that he has not yet made up his mind and perhaps is not trying to at this stage.

Men in Mr. Eisenhower's official entourage knock down every story which suggests he has decided. Roscoe Drummond, who writes in both the New York Herald Tribune and the Christian Science Monitor, recently said flatly that he knows two members of the President's family who believe he is still weighing the decision or deferring it.

There is considerable feeling that Mr. Eisenhower is holding off until the doctors can tell him how complete his recovery may be. That time will be the latter part of January.

By that time, too, he will have been back in the White House long enough to get some idea how effectively he can perform his official duties under the restricted regimen the doctors will prescribe for him.

He will then be able fairly to consult his conscience on the state of his health and the state of the world, as Drummond said, and determine his course.

These reports must give pause to the politicians and others who quickly concluded the President would make a snap decision not to run.

The weight of seasoned opinion still is that he will eventually take himself out of the 1956 race. But recent events surely dictate caution.

In his misfortune Mr. Eisenhower learned anew, with greater force than ever, how highly the common citizens of America and the free world prize him as leader. If he really can make a full recovery, this fresh knowledge might bear heavily on his vital choice to run or not to run.

We cannot permit farm prices to continue this one-way ride in the wrong direction.

—Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore.)

In the event the President (Eisenhower) should not be a candidate, the party, and the country are entitled to sufficient time to make their own appraisals. Republicans, its primaries and state conventions, should have a choice of alternates.

—Sen. William Knowland (R-Calif.)

He (Maj. Gen. William F. Dean) is one of America's great heroes. He symbolizes a great episode in the Army's history.

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Leaves from a reporter's notebook.

It may interest several million American kids of all ages to know that Hopalong Cassidy's horse comes of age next week.

Topper, four-footed hero of more than 95 films, will be 21 on Tuesday. The children at the Graham School in Hastings-on-the-Hudson have arranged a party for him. The birthday cake will have a huge carrot in the center to make it more attractive to Topper.

The big horse, who has had white hair all his life, shows few signs of age. He still travels 30,000 miles a year on personal appearance tours, still puts in a full day's work whenever his boss, that guy in the black cowboy suit, needs him. But like most famous stars, Topper has a double who performs certain difficult stunts for him.

At 21, a mellowing age for a horse, life holds many attractions for Topper.

He isn't allowed to ride street cars, of course, but he is ineligible for the draft, he doesn't worry about who pays his income taxes, and he always knows where his next lump of sugar is coming from.

Topper knows about every trick except the trick of speech. Suppose he could talk, what would he say? An admirer of Topper's thinks the horse would look back over his shoulder at Hopalong and remark:

"If only I could get that guy off my back!"

A week ago I was eating at Toots Shor's and saw a tall thin man with a graying mustache dining alone at the next table.

I had a sudden urge to go over and tell him what a fine human being I thought he was and how much I admired his ability as a writer. I had met the man casually, and it would not have been out of place for me to obey my urge. But I didn't.

The man was Robert Sherwood, the playwright. The next day he suffered a heart attack. Two days later he was dead.

It would have made no difference to Bob Sherwood if I had stepped over to him and put my thoughts into words. He was accustomed to receiving the praise he had earned.

But it makes a difference to me that I left my regard for him unspoken, for now I can never tell him and can only write it here, and am left with a regret.

Who says romance had died out of the world?

Recently during a cruise the chief steward of the Furness liner "Queen of Bermuda" knocked on the door of stateroom C-119.

He asked the occupants, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Larson of New Rochelle, N. Y., if they would accept a bottle of champagne that evening with the compliments of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Vreeland of Wilmette, Ill.

The surprised couple asked the origin of the gift.

The steward explained that 20 years before the Vreelands had sailed on the liner on their honeymoon. They had planned to spend their 20th anniversary the same way, but family illnesses had prevented them from carrying out their plan. So the Vreelands wrote the ship line, enclosed a sum of money, and asked that whoever occupied their old cabin—C-119—have a bottle of champagne on their 20th wedding anniversary.

The unusual request was carried out. The Larsons joined the ship's captain in toasting the Vreelands and then radioed them a "happy anniversary" message.

"I'm sorry they didn't get to make the trip themselves," said Larson. "They sound like people it would be fun to know."

ANTICLOTING DRUGS PERFECTED; USE MUST BE CAREFULLY SUPERVISED

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

Nature has given us remarkable bodies which function with great satisfaction. Once in a while, however, one of the bodily functions gets out of whack and one can, for example, have too easy clotting of the blood, or its opposite—too easy bleeding.

Q—I should be interested to learn about a drug which is used to prevent blood clotting, particularly when one is past middle age and threatened with apoplexy. —F. V.

A—There are actually two substances which are sometimes used in human beings to delay the coagulation or clotting of blood. One of these is heparin which is obtained by making an extract from the liver. The other is dicumarol which was originally obtained from spoiled sweet clover and can now be made in the laboratory. These substances must be used with care since too much of them may result in excessive bleeding. They are not used too freely to prevent apoplexy but may have value for a few patients.

Q—I am a saleswoman standing on my feet from 6:30 in the morning to 5 or 6 in the evening, with only a half hour for lunch when I sit. Lately my right leg has begun aching and even after a good night's sleep, I awake in the morning with the same feeling. Is this a beginning of something serious? —Mrs. T. M.

A—There are several possible causes for the discomfort you are having in your leg. You should have your feet examined for the possibility of fallen arches and to make sure that you are wearing the most comfortable shoes possible. There is also the possibility of some difficulty with the blood circulation in your legs. I should say that this was serious enough for you to seek relief.

Q—My dictionary says that sadism is a sexual perversion in which satisfaction is derived from the infliction of cruelty. Does this mean only physical cruelty, or can it be mental cruelty as well? —Reader.

A—This term is derived from the Marquis de Sade, and I believe applies strictly to physical cruelty, though there is, of course, cruelty of the purely mental variety.

Q—Would you please comment on the dangers, if any, of making a blood donation every three months? There seems to be a divergence of opinion on this.—E.O.A.

A—All of the evidence of which

I am aware indicates that a healthy person can make a donation of blood of the usual quantity at least as often as every three months without producing any harm whatever.

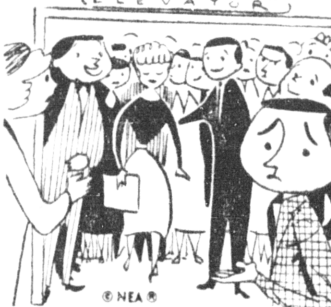

Q—Would you say something about the floating kidney? I should like to know how this develops and whether it can be corrected with surgery only, and if it is serious.—Mrs. H. B.

A—This is a condition in which one of the kidneys is not attached as firmly as normally and moves around to some extent. It may not produce any symptoms at all, nor require treatment. If treatment is needed, surgery is the only method of correcting the condition.

In Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—This town, which specializes in legends, is building another around the late James Dean.

The 24-year-old actor died in a highway crash Sept. 30, yet he is as much in the public consciousness as he was when he lived. Perhaps more so. Men of genius who die young always excite the imagination.

Hollywood is agreed that Dean was a genius. Says Nick Ray, who directed him in one of his last pictures: "I think within two years Jim would have taken his place with Laurence Olivier, Gerard Philipe and Marlon Brando as one of the great actors of modern times."

Dean's death hit Ray especially hard. A bond had been established between the director and Dean during the year they knew each other and worked together. They had planned to form their own company.

Ray directed Dean in "Rebel Without a Cause." He told of making unusual preparations for the assignment.

"I had heard from everyone that Jim was difficult to work with," the director said. "So I decided to spend as much time with him before the picture as I could."

"I went East and found out how he lived back there, the kind of music he liked, all about him. I had him spend a lot of time with my son, who is 17. I wanted him to experience the relationship with a younger boy, as he had to enact in the picture."

"I found that Jim wasn't difficult at all. He was a tremendously vital, gifted and earnest young man."

Although Dean is gone, his name is as prominent as ever. "Rebel" is doing big business, and he'll be seen in "Giant" next year. Already he's being boomed for an Oscar.

Vice President Candidates Are Found on Every Corner

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA)—One year in advance of the 1956 elections, there are 101 dark-horse entrants in the vice-presidential sweepstakes. This large number was one of the big surprises revealed in the poll of Washington newspaper, magazine and radio correspondents just concluded for this column.

Fifty-six Republican names and 45 Democratic names were mentioned by newsmen accredited to the Congressional press galleries.

The result is taken as indicative of many things.

It's a free country and anybody can run for the vice-presidency who has the ambition, self-esteem or gall.

Also, politicians' friends sometimes place them in embarrassing predicaments by suggesting them before they haven't a chance to get.

The great number of nominations may show that there is a vast wealth of political talent in democratic America. Or it may mean there are far too many potential Throttlebottoms standing around, waiting to be struck by political lightning.

On Some Of Those Nominations. After watching the four foreign it was necessary to stop and think for a moment, to identify individual uals. But in the interest of narrow down the field, it's in order to run down the list.

Ten Republican governors were mentioned as possibilities, as against nine Democratic governors.

The Republicans—Herter, Mass.; Knight, Calif.; Stratton, Ill.; Lang-lie, Wash.; Craig, Ind.; Joe Foss, the Marine hero, S. Dak.; Hall, Kans.; McKeldin, Md.; Koehler, Wis.; and Patterson, Ore.

The Democrats—Harriman, N. Y.; Lausche, O.; Williams, Mich.; Clement, Tenn.; Muskie, Me.; Meyner, N. J.; Leader, Pa.; Freeman, Minn.; and Happy Chandler, the new governor-elect of Kentucky.

The Democrats had only one ex-governor suggested—Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois, the overwhelming choice of newsmen for the Democratic nomination.

Four Republican ex-governors were offered: Dewey, N. Y.; Thornton, Colo.; Pyle, Ariz.; Adams, Vt. President Eisenhower's assistant.

Fourteen GOP Administration officials were named.

In addition to Vice President Nixon and Chief Justice Earl Warren, both of California, four cabinet officers were put forward. They are Dulles of State, Humphrey of Treasury, Mitchell of Labor and

Atty Gen Brownell. Two of Brownell's assistants were also suggested—William P. Rogers and Stanley Barnes of the anti-trust division. Also in the little cabinet rank, Under-Secretary of State Herbert Hoover Jr., got a mention. So did the Secretary for Peace, ex-Gov. Harold Stassen of Minnesota, and the head of the U. S. delegation to the United Nations, ex-Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge, Mass.

For laughs, some wages suggested by the Press Secretary Jim Hagerty and the President's dramatic coach, Robert Montgomery, GOP Chairman Len Hall got a couple of votes.

The Republicans also came up with two women nominees—two guessed 'em—Ambassador Clare Boothe Luce and Sen. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine. No Democratic women showed.

Twenty-Nine Democratic Senators were named, as against only 18 Republican senators. Since the total of 47 is only one less than half the Senate and since all senators really consider themselves timber, the list can be skipped.

The GOP ranks included three generals, MacArthur, Wedemeyer and Gruenther. As Democratic possibilities, labor leaders John L. Lewis, George Meany and Walter Reuther were put forward. The only businessman suggested was Republican Paul Hoffman. The only educator suggested was Milton Eisenhower, the President's brother, who got 11 votes.

Many of the correspondents who take their political reporting seriously refused to guess on vice-presidential possibilities 10 months ahead of the nominating conventions. As Robert Riggs of Louisville Courier Journal puts it, "there ain't no such animal."

The World Today

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Geneva conference, a complete failure proved only what was apparent before it began: both sides feel so powerful neither thinks it necessary—yet—to yield anything to the other.

At the meeting which ended Wednesday the West and Russia are determined to stay fully armed, to watch maneuver, and try or hope for a break which will make the other yield ground.

How long will this go on? Probably for years. There is no reason and no evidence to think otherwise.

If this meeting served no other useful purpose, at least it put the finger on the "Geneva spirit" for what it was, a myth.

President Eisenhower and Soviet Premier Bulganin, at their summit meeting last July in Geneva, expressed pious hopes for the future. The fact that they could talk on friendly terms was a big improvement over recent relations.

But saying "Hello" to a man is a lot different from being able to do business with him in a satisfactory way. The Eisenhower-Bulganin meeting could have no meaning unless it was translated into reality by deeds.

It was just about impossible to see how that could happen in the foreseeable future since the gap between the West and Russia—the profound difference in their aims and desires—was so wide.

It is easy to be partisan in appraising the performance of the two sides at the foreign ministers' meeting. The judgement of the man-in-the-street—depending on whether he's in Washington, London, Paris or Moscow—will be based largely on his patriotism and trust division. Also in the little prejudice of if you had been an American State Herbert Hoover Jr., got a mention. So did the Secretary for Peace, ex-Gov. Harold Stassen of Minnesota, and the head of the U. S. delegation to the United Nations, ex-Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge, Mass.

For example, he wants Germany united and linked in a military alliance with this country. That's life insurance against Russian expansion or attack.

If you had been a Russian at Geneva, watching Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov, you would doubt have given him full approval when he took a stand opposite Dulles. He wants Germany united but linked to Russia. That would have meant life insurance against new German militarism or Western attack.

Officials of each side will now tell their people the other side was to blame for the failure to reach any agreements at Geneva. The fact is that each side wants agreement all right—but on its own terms.

One out of every seven U. S. people have never seen the inside of a dental office, says an American Dental Association report.

Three years after graduating from college she gave up her dream of a glamorous career to marry. Now six years later with the responsibility of a house to run, a husband to keep happy and two children to look after she is feeling sorry for herself.

The job of homemaker that she willingly chose instead of ruthlessly going after the career she first thought she wanted has lost its glamor. She is weary of the routine of housework, tired of being "taken for granted" by her husband, bored with being tied down by small children. She wants to know what she can do to make her life once more seem worth while and exciting.

Well, she can grow up. She can smile at her dreams of a glamorous career. She can admit that if she had been driven by the kind of self-centered ambition and readiness to sacrifice personal happiness for hard work needed to take a woman to the top in a career she wouldn't have so quickly settled for marriage.

IS THAT CAREER A MASK FOR LONELINESS? And she can look closely at some successful career woman to see if her life is really as glamorous as it seems on the surface or if it is mostly hard work, loneliness, and maybe even a substitute for being needed by a husband and children.

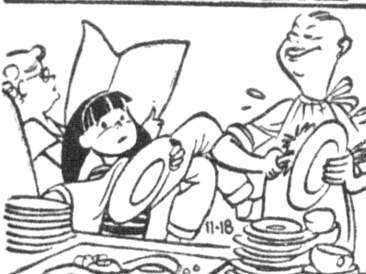

And then she can look at all the possibilities for happiness and accomplishment and service in the life she has chosen.

What job for a woman is actually more satisfying than holding the love of a husband, being needed by children, being the one human being who can do the best job of making a home for her particular family?

And all of a homemaker's years aren't the busy, crowded, hectic ones she goes through while her children are small. That is only a brief period in her life. The rest of the years offer all kinds of opportunity for self-development, social life, community work, and self-expression.

Any woman who thinks she has shortchanged herself by choosing marriage instead of a career just needs to grow up.

Ham Souffle Is Special Party Fare for Holidays

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

When you want an especially fine dish for your Christmas season parties, turn the pages of the new "Dione Lucas Meat and Poultry Cook Book." It contains over 300 recipes for beef, veal, lamb, ham and pork, chicken, turkey, goose, duck, etc. by the noted Dione Lucas and well-known Ann Roe Robbins.

This ham souffle is one of the book's fine dishes. Really worth trying.

Ham Souffle (Serves 4-6)
Two cups ground cooked ham, 5 tablespoons butter, 3 tablespoons flour, 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard, cayenne, 3/4 cup milk, 4 egg yolks, unbeaten, 1 pound mushrooms, 6 egg whites, stiffly beaten.

Put enough ham through the fine cutter of a meat grinder to make 2 cups. Melt 3 tablespoons of butter in a medium-size saucepan. Blend in, off the fire, 3 tablespoons of flour, 1/2 teaspoon of dry mustard and a pinch of cayenne. Pour on 3/4 cup of milk and stir over the fire until the mixture comes to a boil.

Remove from the fire. Add the ground ham. Then add 4 egg yolks, one at a time, stirring well after each addition. Let cool a little—in fact at this stage the mixture can stand for several hours.

Remove the stems from a pound of mushrooms and slice the caps. Sauté in a tablespoon of butter until lightly browned. Grease a soufflé dish with butter and tie a band of buttered waxed paper around the outside. Stiffly beat 6 egg whites and fold them gently into the ham mixture. Place a third of the souffle mixture in the dish and cover with half the sautéed mushrooms. Then another third of the souffle mixture, the rest of the mushrooms and the remaining souffle.

Bake in a moderate oven at 375 degrees F. for 30 to 40 minutes, until nicely browned. Remove, carefully take off the waxed paper and serve immediately.

Note: The mushrooms may be omitted and the souffle sprinkled with grated Parmesan cheese before it is baked.

SUNDAY DINNER: Clear tomato bouillon in cups, ham souffle, fried sweet potato halves, tiny peas with white onion, crusty rolls, butter or margarine, mixed green salad, French dressing, pineapple tarts one at a time, stirring well after

Strikers In Shoe Industry Make New Wage Proposal

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Striking AFL and CIO shoe workers have made a new wage proposal to the International Shoe Co. in an effort to end a walkout almost two weeks old.

The proposal came at a negotiation session Thursday, the first since the strike began Nov. 7. No details were given.

The company negotiators plan to study the proposal prior to another meeting set for next Monday.

A hearing on a Circuit Court petition by the firm for an injunction to restrain picketing at the firm's offices here is scheduled for today.

The petition followed two days of mass picketing during which company spokesmen said several non-union officer workers were pushed and shoved by pickets. Since Wednesday only five pickets have been at the offices.

A union spokesman said after Thursday's meeting that the two sides were not so far apart now and that an improved counter proposal by the company Monday would show real progress.

Brown Shoe Co., against which the union struck Nov. 8, did not take part in the meeting. Altogether some 27,000 workers are on strike at 60 plants of the two firms in Missouri, Illinois, Arkansas, Indiana, Kentucky and Tennessee. About 15 unorganized plants remain in operation.

Before the strike the unions asked a 12 per cent pay raise in two annual installments. The companies offered 7½ per cent. The union workers averaged $1.22 an hour under contracts which expired Oct. 31.

Some 500 Brown Shoe Co. workers, who twice before voted to ignore union strike orders, voted Thursday to stay away from work after pickets from Salem and Charleston, Ill., appeared at the plant. A plant official said some 50 of those later defied pickets to do maintenance work.

O'Connor Fined For Refusing To Tell If Communist

WASHINGTON (AP)—Author Harvey O'Connor was fined $500 and given a one-year suspended jail sentence today for refusing to say whether he was a Communist when he wrote books used in U. S. overseas libraries.

O'Connor told U. S. Dist. Judge Joseph C. McGarraghy he felt "The real reason I am here in court today is because I wrote books." He added that he regards the First Amendment as "the crux of this case."

That amendment makes the guarantees of free speech and free press.

Before imposing sentence, the judge ruled O'Connor was guilty of contempt of Congress for refusing to tell Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) whether he was a member of the "Communist conspiracy" when he wrote the books later used by the U. S. Information Service in libraries abroad.

McCarthy at the time headed the Senate Investigations subcommittee in a hunt for Communist subversion in the government.

O'Connor told the court he had no knowledge his books were being used in the U. S. libraries overseas until told so during the investigation, adding:

"If I hadn't written books the State Department wouldn't have bought them."

"I feel somewhat like an innocent bystander caught in the brawl between the senator (McCarthy) and what he calls the Acheson State Department."

"I was a bystander and I got hit on the head pretty badly."

O'Connor in refusing to answer McCarthy's questions did not invoke the Fifth Amendment which protects a witness against being required to incriminate himself.

Interpreting The News

By J. M. ROBERTS

Associated Press News Analyst

The suggestion that the United States stage a public demonstration of the H-bomb in order to shock the world into a more determined search for peace runs up against the fact that the world already is shocked.

The Russians say they have the H-bomb, and this is confirmed by Allied observations. If the American one is better, as Atomic Energy Commissioner Murray suggests with his call for a demonstration of superiority, it is better only in degree.

New demonstrations, therefore, would hardly impress the Russians, who have already impressed themselves and would fly in the face of neutralist demands, continuously pressed ever since the first H-bomb tests, that there be no more such.

Indeed, the world is so impressed already that many unproven horrors are envisioned. World annihilation, production of human monsters through genetical changes, and the like, are among them.

In the early stages of atomic development it was believed that the very existence of the bombs might eventually force the world to drop the idea of war as an extension of diplomacy. Instead, and despite the fact that Russian observers were present at the Bikini tests before they had the A-bomb, an atomic arms race developed. On the basis of the record, further demonstrations of power can only call for further efforts by others to get even.

Indeed, there are now two new factors which encourage entry into the race by additional countries.

One is the confirmation at Geneva that Germany will not be reunited soon, which cannot but contribute to the rise of national feelings in Europe, and the need among individual nations to protect themselves in every way possible.

The other is the indicated lessening of the financial cost of atomic armament, through the confirmation by Murray of what has been long suspected among laymen, that Uranium 238, cheap and plentiful, is the major source of H-bomb power.

This spreads the availability of mass destruction weapons to smaller nations, eliminating the costly necessity of changing so much U-238 and U-235 and plutonium.

The very cost and complexity of the conversion plants has been a major factor in limiting bomb-building to the greater powers.

Anything now that gives the impression of increased reliance on this killing power, instead of on peaceful solutions on world problems, would not only greatly disturb the neutrals, but also might extend and intensify the race. Indeed, the world's uneasiness was increased when it was revealed that the Russians were conducting new bomb tests even during the so-called peace conference at Geneva.

IRAN PREMIER 'FEELING FINE' AFTER BULLET NICK

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—Premier Hussein Ala, wounded in the neck Thursday by a would-be assassin, left by train today for Iraq to attend the first full meeting of the five-nation Baghdad Defense Alliance.

The 72-year-old Premier told reporters at the station he was "feeling fine." A small adhesive plaster on the back of his neck was the only evidence of the wound he suffered when a gunman opened fire in the shah mosque in Central Tehran.

The gunman was arrested quickly by police who identified him as a Moslem religious fanatic named Mozaffar Ali Zulghadad, 32.

Prejudices Slow Job Finding For College Graduates

CHICAGO (AP)—A survey shows more than half of 151 colleges and universities in the Midwest have difficulty finding jobs for graduates because of race, religion or national origin.

The survey was conducted by the Midwest Educators Committee on Discriminations in Higher Education in cooperation with the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith. It was made public Thursday.

The committee asked this question of 266 college placement offices in Illinois, Iowa, Indiana, Michigan, Minnesota, Ohio and Wisconsin:

"How often do employers, in the market for a college student to hire, specify he must be white, Protestant, or perhaps a third-generation American? And what do the college placement offices do about such requests?"

One hundred fifty-one colleges and universities answered. The committee said the answers showed:

In only two states, Minnesota and Wisconsin, did less than half the colleges have difficulty getting jobs for certain students because of these conditions.

About 2-3 of all the colleges said they received some job offers with discriminatory specifications attached.

One-sixth of the colleges said more than 5 per cent of the job offers they received contained such discriminatory specifications.

Says Mom Finds 2-Shift School Cramps Her Bridge

CHICAGO (AP)—"Mom wants the kid to play in school all day so she can go to a bridge party," said a state legislator Thursday in explaining why some people object to double shifts in schools.

Under a double shift program, some pupils go to school only in the morning, and other pupils attend only in the afternoons.

Rep. S. O. Dale (R-Fairfield) made his statement about bridge parties at a meeting of the Legislature's Joint School Problem's Commission. The commission is trying to find some solution to overcrowding in Illinois schools.

Another Republican lawmaker, Rep. E. B. Green of Pekin, said in reference to the double shift and the regular all-day school programs that teachers have told him that "actually a pupil gets a good education either way."

The idea was opposed by Sen. Marshall Korschak (D - Chicago), who said, "A child is not as alert in the afternoon. And he has a greater opportunity for mischief on a double shift."

U. S. Provides Over $51 Billion Aid In 10 Years

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has provided more than $1 billion dollars in foreign aid in the last 10 years, a Commerce Department report shows.

Of this total, 40 billions was in the form of grants and the other 11 billions as loans to other nations. Some of this help went to Russia and other nations now in the Communist orbit. This was before the cold war set in.

The study showed that the 40 billion dollars in grants was divided into $25,686,000,000 for economic, technical and like aid and $14,663,000,000 for military help.

Western European countries and their dependencies received $33,409,000,000, or nearly two thirds of the $51,336,000,000 spent on foreign aid from mid-1945 through mid-1955.

VOTE AUDIENCE AWARDS Nov. 17th to 27th

As every parent knows, learning to say "thank you" is one of the elementary lessons in a child's home education. It is page one in the book of good manners.

It is also one of the first lessons in a person's religious education. And here it is something more than mere good manners.

In every age man's spiritual insight can be measured by his readiness to recognize God as the source of strength and blessings, and by his eagerness to express his gratitude to the Almighty. No one has ever doubted the religious sincerity of our Pilgrim fathers: they gave us Thanksgiving Day.

Today, in a world hungry for spiritual leadership, how much depends on our faith in God... and our ability to turn to Him in gratitude and prayer!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Fair Association Open Meeting Monday In Virginia

VIRGINIA — The Cass County Fair Association will hold an open meeting Monday evening at 8 o'clock in the Farm Bureau building in Virginia. The nominating committee will report names selected to replace the directors whose terms expire. All who are interested in 4-H work and in the fair are invited to attend.

Former Resident Elected
At an election held Nov. 8 in the city of Sylvan Lake, a suburb of Pontiac, Mich., a former Virginia young man was elected councilman by a large majority of votes. Robert Meneses, son of Mrs. C. A. Meneses and the late C. A. Meneses of Virginia, was born in Virginia and graduated from the Virginia High School. He was a navy pilot during World War II, and after his discharge from the navy he was married and taught five years in Michigan schools. He is a member of the city planning commission of Sylvan Lake and is district representative for E. R. Squibb & Sons.

Lights Go On
The new modern lights located on the Virginia square were turned on for the first time Tuesday evening.

To Attend Rally
Boys and girls of the junior and senior high schools will leave the local Presbyterian church at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon for Decatur where they will attend a youth rally. There will be no meeting of the Westminster Fellowship until 5 o'clock Sunday, Nov. 27.

The youth budget has been prepared and is being mailed to all the young people of the church.

FOR A SELECT CLIENTELE—This Christmas tree is worth $18,750, because it's made of 60 pink tails and is decorated with jewels. Displaying it is its creator, Mrs. Alice Daly, San Francisco artist and designer. She designs Christmas cards and bizarre gifts for "people who have everything." Her collection includes $2500 pearl dog collars and a $25,000 Christmas card.

Pledge cards and envelopes are being made available to assist the young people in having a vital part in the operation of the church.

The splint, almost as big as the pup, envelops both hind legs, so Prince has to rock and roll on the rocker around his hind end. Helping Prince pass the time during convalescence are owners Tommy and Brenda Lee Gazaway of Greenville, S.C.

DAN was grateful for the coffee and pleased that Paula had gone to a little extra trouble in preparing the soup. He said as much and Paula only murmured something, hardly looking at him. Phil finally placed his empty cup on the table and leaned back.

"First," he said, "about the fight. I don't know where the story started, but Blaise and I did not tangle over anything I said about Paula. She wasn't mentioned."

They didn't quite believe him, although Phil kept this out of his voice, making it dry and matter of fact.

"Maybe you'd better tell your side."

They listened, distant at first, then pulled in by his sincerity and the shock of what he had to tell them. He mentioned Starrett's ambition and the way he looked to that stretch of HC range, and how at last he had determined to force Crane off of it, and because of this the ultimatum that he had given to Dan to either draw gun wages or quit.

Dan glanced up at Paula and read the shock of disbelief in her eyes.

Dan spoke regretfully and yet with a mounting anger. He told of Starrett's new idea that the bandit gang gave him a chance to force Crane's hand. He told of the conference with Bruhn and then how he had accused Starrett out on the saloon porch.

"I wasn't drunk," he said finally. "I was mad clean down to my boots. We didn't talk of Paula or any other woman. Starrett shouldn't have told that story."

Phil looked grave and Paula studied her fingers. She looked pleased and yet she also seemed to be troubled. Phil sighed.

"Dan, do you know what you're saying?"

"The truth, Phil . . . nothing else."

"But . . . man! If this is true, then Blaise will have Hal Crane killed and maybe that rider, Claggett, too."

Dan realized that they couldn't quite believe him and yet they could not accuse him of lying, either. He was caught between and only events would prove him right or wrong. Yet, if he carried out his plan at the Wyoming Bar, he would have Jack Bruhn to verify what he had just told them. He saw the dilemma and realized that he could say no more right now. He slowly shoved back his chair.

"I'd better be getting on. Time passes."

"To Vivian's?" Phil asked. Paula stirred and Dan gave all his attention to her, though he talked to Phil.

"This morning she heard about Ava and went over there. I went with her, I'd do it for any woman with this bunch of outlaws in town." He almost told them of what he had learned but checked himself. Paula glanced up at his slight hesitation and Dan went stubbornly on.

"She found out at Ava's where the whole town stood, and she knew something had to be done. Again he looked at Paula. "She asked me to her house and she gave me a gun she had hidden. That's all there is to that."

DAN watched Paula's bowed head. She slowly looked up and searched his face and then Dan knew that he had been right. The girl loved him and he felt his heart leap. But he read a shadow of hurt in her eyes. She knew he had left something out and this was between them. He saw the slight change in her expression.

"It doesn't matter . . . but she" gun does. You'd better get it before it's too late."

Dan Murdock stepped off the porch and, squaring his shoulders, walked to the Squaw Creek Road. Vivian's cottage stood not far ahead.

His jaw relaxed a bit and he strode to the porch, knocked on the door. Within a matter of minutes he would have that single, all-precious weapon . . . and then he'd make the big gamble. He heard steps approach and the knob rattled.

The door jerked open and Dan stared, eyes wide, smile frozen on his face. Tex Darrow looked at him, grinning, and yet there was a sinister little gleam in his eyes. His smile widened and he stepped back, making a generous gesture.

"Well, come right in. We've been waiting for you so the party could begin. Step in, Murdock."

Disaster had struck. Darrow waited, a smiling, dangerous man. Dan shrugged, deciding to play a careful, waiting game. He stepped inside and took off his hat.

DENVER GORCE leaned against the far wall, one hand stroking his beard, the other resting close to his holstered gun. Dan saw Vivian seated in a rocker near the stove. Her eyes sparkled and her fingers clutched the chair arm as she rocked back and forth with a tempo that revealed her inner turmoil. Dan tried to get some signal that would explain the situation. But she kept her eyes on the floor and her nostrils looked pinched.

Tex Darrow came in behind Dan and then headed toward the window. He glanced at Denver, who started smiling through his beard.

Darrow's brow lifted and his grin widened. He crossed the room to the table that held the ornate lamp, and Dan saw the gun for the first time. Tex picked it up and Dan could not help a sharp, indrawn breath. Tex's dark eyes were cruel and implacable.

"Ain't this what you come for Murdock?"

Court Order For Minnie Minoso Dismissed Friday

CHICAGO (P) — A court order against Chicago White Sox outfielder Orestes (Minnie) Minoso for back alimony was dismissed Friday by Superior Court Judge Charles E. Byrne.

The court order, issued last August by Judge Maurice J. Schultz of Blue Island City Court, came in an appeal by Minoso's ex-wife, Mrs. Barbara Armas Minoso, 23.

Mrs. Minoso sought to have Minoso arrested on an attachment for failure to show up in court and pay $1,500 in back alimony.

Minoso's attorney, Sol R. Friedman, contended Judge Schultz had entered an attachment order without proper jurisdiction. The court agreed Judge Schultz earlier had granted Mrs. Minoso a divorce.

Univ. Of Florida Directed To Play Florida State U.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (P) — The State Board of Control Friday directed the University of Florida and Florida State University to play football against each other starting in 1956.

Chairman Fred Kent of Jacksonville told the presidents of the two universities the board insisted upon immediate action in starting athletic relations including football and all other sports.

"If your athletic directors can't get together on this, get new athletic directors," Kent said.

Kent pointed out that two years ago the board had lifted the ban on athletic contests between the two universities in the hope that a start toward a football game would be made.

The university presidents said their institutions had made progress in inaugurating athletic relations and already had drawn up schedules for meeting in minor sports.

Unofficially, the University of Florida already has a 10-game schedule, but does not include Florida State.

Florida State Athletic Director Howard Danford and Florida Director Bob Woodruff conferred on the matter but were unable to reach agreement on a date, a site or the financial arrangements.

MIKAN INTERESTED IN POLITICS

MINNEAPOLIS (P) — "Mr. Basketball," George Mikan, is interested in becoming a congressman.

The former college and professional cage star, currently general manager of the National Basketball Assn.'s Minneapolis Lakers, appeared at a 3rd District Republican meeting Thursday night as a "known aspirant."

Mikan, 31, also a Minneapolis attorney, told the meeting he "would like to be considered a candidate" for the seat now held by Rep. Roy Wier (D-Minn.).

Bears Meet Detroit Lions Sunday; Rams Play At Baltimore

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Chicago's hustling Bears, who rose from the depths to a tie for first place in the western conference of the National Football League, have a chance to grab the top rung all for themselves Sunday.

Winners of five straight after blowing their first three, the re-urgent Bears are favored to whip the wakening Lions at Detroit in a first meeting of the teams this season. Beaten in their first six starts, the Lions, defending conference champions, snapped out of their slump with consecutive victories over Baltimore and Pittsburgh.

The Bears and the Los Angeles Rams are tied for the top in the west with 5-3 records followed closely by Baltimore and Green Bay with 4-4 each. San Francisco 3-5 and Detroit 2-6 are out of the running.

Los Angeles, whipped by the Bears last week and the Colts, defeated in their last two, have it out at Baltimore. This is another first meeting of the season.

Green Bay's Packers fight to keep in the race in a game with San Francisco at Milwaukee. The Packers racked up the Chicago Cards last week while the 49ers were downed by Washington for their second loss in succession.

Cleveland, which figured to romp away with the eastern title, suddenly finds itself threatened by Washington's Redskins, winners of two straight. The Browns only have a game edge now with their 6-2 record against Washington's 5-3. Behind them come Pittsburgh 4-4, Chicago Cards and Philadelphia 3-4-1 each, and New York 3-5.

The Browns should have more trouble against Pittsburgh at Cleveland than Washington with the Cards at Chicago. The Steelers have lost three in a row and are rarin' to get back in the picture. Washington was beaten 24-10 earlier in the season by the Cards, but the Skins have righted themselves since.

Philadelphia and New York both apparently out of the race, collide for the second time this year at the New York Polo Grounds. The Eagles edged the Giants in their first meeting 27-17.

All six of the games will be played Sunday afternoon.

MIAMI, Fla. (P)—Miami's powerful fullback, Don Bosseler, rammed through Alabama's line for three touchdowns Friday night to lead the Hurricanes to a 32-12 victory over the Crimson Tide. It was Miami's fourth straight win.

CHANDLERVILLE —(Special)—Chandlerville won a thrilling game from Arenzville Friday night in the final two seconds. Huffman scored under the basket to give Poppy Wainwright's crew a hard fought ball game. Pastrano Dances Way To Decision Over Joe Rowan

NEW YORK (P) — Willie Pastrano, a nimble dancing man from New Orleans with quick, accurate hands darted in and out against plodding Joe Rowan Friday night to win a unanimous decision in a 10-round match at Madison Square Garden. Each weighed 181½.

The 19-year-old Pastrano was almost too "cute" for his own good at times as he walked into the path of Rowan, an evercharging aggressor. Still Willie was much too fast for the Irishman from Phoenixville, Pa., as he dashed in to land a quick jab and then moved out of range while Rowan stormed past. As Rowan roared by, Willie usually let him have a couple more.

Michigan State Wins Big 10 Title In Cross Country

CHICAGO (P)—Michigan State's great sophomore jogger, Henry Kennedy, set a new unofficial meet record and led the Spartans to the team title in the annual Big Ten cross country run Friday.

Kennedy, winner of Monday's IC4A cross country meet, loped over Washington Park's four-mile course in 19 minutes and 6 seconds as he finished 100 yards ahead of another sophomore, Charley Jones of Iowa.

The former record of 19:40.5 was set by Iowa's Rich Ferguson in 1952. The course was surveyed Friday after the race and found to be 18 seconds faster than the four-mile length. However, Kennedy's performance bettered the previous mark.

Michigan State, also taking 3rd, 6th, 7th and 19th places, finished with 36 points. Illinois was second with 57, Iowa had 65, Indiana 85, Minnesota 108 and Wisconsin 114.

Last year's winner, Michigan, did not compete. Neither did Purdue or Northwestern.

Ohio State was entered, but lacked a five-man team necessary to score.

Michigan - Ohio State, UCLA - Southern Cal Battle For Bowl Bids

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Injuries and capricious weather became important factors as the college football season neared "Climax Saturday" with the bowl hopes of half a dozen teams riding on the outcome of key games.

At Ann Arbor, Mich., where Michigan and Ohio State clash for the Big Ten championship, groundskeepers dug out from a wintry midweek storm and prepared for a chilly, drizzly day.

The weatherman predicted clear skies at Los Angeles, where UCLA meets Southern California in renewal of their bitter backyard rivalry which this time affects the Rose Bowl ambitions of UCLA.

In the Pacific Coast battle, which will be nationally televised (NBC) starting at 3:15 p.m. central standard time, UCLA, a 10-point favorite, will be without the services of its ace passer, Ronnie Knox. He suffered a broken ankle last week.

Southern California reports a long hospital list but no injury severe enough to keep a Trojan out of this important skirmish.

UCLA, fifth ranked nationally and beaten only by Maryland, must win to clinch the host berth at Pasadena. A loss could throw the honor in the direction of Oregon State, if the Webfoots best Oregon at Eugene Saturday.

Michigan is conceded a one-touchdown edge over Ohio State, the Rose Bowl representative a year ago, but these odds may depend on the health of Ohio State's brilliant Howard (Hopalong) Cassidy. Hoppy was hurt in an automobile accident this week but reports are he has only a stiff neck and will be in full cry.

Should the sixth-ranked Michigans bow to the No. 9 Buckeyes, the Rose Bowl bid would go to Michigan State, the team many now regard as the Midwest's best. Michigan State, third-ranked nationally, has completed its Big Ten schedule with only a loss to Michigan and closes with non-league Marquette Saturday.

The Orange Bowl promoters at Miami the knowledge they have latched on to the two top-ranking teams in the nation in Oklahoma and Maryland and that neither should be in serious danger.

Oklahoma's No. 1 Sooners, on a 27-game winning binge, meet a 2-improved Nebraska eleven, which may be fired up by the announcement of Coach Bill Glassford that this is his last game with the Cornhuskers. Maryland meets George Washington. Oklahoma and Maryland both are favored by 20-plus points.

Texas Christian can nail down the Cotton Bowl bid by whipping Rice.

The Sugar Bowl at New Orleans, which would be happy to have Texas A&M, will have to wait a week or so before filling its bill. Auburn, a candidate, plays Clemson at Mobile, Ala., while Tennessee, also in the New Orleans picture, tackles Kentucky at Lexington, Ky.

Notre Dame, the No. 4 team in The Associated Press poll, takes on a traditionally tough rival, Iowa, at South Bend.

In the Ivy League, Princeton is favored to clinch the championship by beating Dartmouth at Princeton. Yale and Harvard vie at New Haven. Conn., in their traditional battle.

Other leading games:

- East — Columbia-Rutgers, Pittsburgh-Syracuse.
- Midwest — Wisconsin-Minnesota.
- Illinois - Northwestern, Missouri-Kansas, Purdue-Indiana.
- Southwest — Baylor-Southern Methodist, Arkansas - Louisiana State.
- Far West — Washington-Washington State, Idaho-Montana.

KENTUCKY MEETS TENNESSEE SATURDAY IN FOOTBALL FINALE

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (P)—Spectators at Saturday's Kentucky-Tennessee football game at Lexington, Ky., will witness an unusual swap—a hound dog for a stuffed wildcat.

The hound, Smoky, is the mascot of the Tennessee Volunteers; the stuffed wildcat was Kentucky's mascot before his untimely death about two years ago.

Kentucky students swiped Smoky last Saturday and some volunteers retaliated promptly by pilfering the wildcat, "Colonel," from a UK campus building.

Dr. Ralph E. Dunford, UT dean of students, said Friday he was 7 Kentucky's dean of men, Leslie Martin, had arranged for the swap to take place on Stoll Field before the traditional game.

ORIOLES APPOINT PRESIDENT

BALTIMORE (P)—James Keely, 43-year-old contractor, became 11th president of the Baltimore Orioles Friday.

The directors elevated Keely from vice president to succeed Clarence W. Miles, resigned, who promoted the money for bringing the American League franchise from St. Louis two years ago.

UCLA Remains One TD Favorite Over Southern Cal

LOS ANGELES (P)—Fear of rain and muddy conditions vanished Friday, giving promise of a fast field and a fair running duel between two crack halfbacks when UCLA and Southern California meet in an important Pacific Coast Conference football game Saturday.

The weatherman hauled down his storm warnings Friday, the sun shone bright and a capacity crowd of more than 100,000, plus a national television (NBC) audience, awaits the kickoff in Memorial Stadium at 1:30 p.m. (3:30 p.m. CST).

UCLA remains a one-touchdown favorite to make it three years in a row over the Trojans, a cross-town foe. The UCLA Bruins ranked fifth in the nation, are seeking a victory that will send them automatically into the Rose Bowl.

A loss by the Bruins, coupled with a victory by Oregon State over Oregon, would toss the bowl bid into a vote by the nine conference members.

The probable key players are Sam Brown of UCLA, No. 15, from the left half, or tailback position in the single wing attack.

His opposition number is left halfback Jon Arnett, No. 26, the shiftest and fastest of SC's backs.

UCLA virtually lost its passing attack with the injury to its passing star, Ronnie Knox.

NCAA Rejects Iowa TV Request For Iowa-Irish Game

DES MOINES (P) — The National Collegiate Athletic Assn. Friday rejected Gov. Leo Hoegh's request for a telegraphic poll for NCAA members to authorize multi-station telecasting of the Iowa-Notre Dame football game Saturday.

Hoegh in a telegram to Walter Byers, Kansas City, NCAA executive director, asked that the poll be conducted.

The NCAA ruled that only WMT-TV, Cedar Rapids, designated the "home station" for the University of Iowa, could carry the telecast in Iowa.

It turned down WMT's request that other Iowa Columbia Broadcasting System stations be permitted to carry it, saying this would conflict with the NCAA's "Game of the Week" contract with NBC and that the association's TV program rules had been set up by the members and the committees and officers have no power to change them.

Hoegh asked that the members be polled to see if they would permit changing the rules in this case, since there are no football games scheduled in Iowa Saturday.

New York Bond Market

NEW YORK (P)—Rail and industrial convertibles declined to lead the bond market lower Friday. U. S. Treasury bonds dropped 7-32 to 12-32, reflecting a boost in the federal reserve board's rediscunt rate to 2 1/4 per cent, highest since 1934. The 1/4 percentage point boost became effective Friday in six federal reserve districts. Late in the day, the Kansas City and Minneapolis federal reserve banks followed suit.

Corporate volume increased to $3,330,000 par value from $2,640,000 Thursday. Lowest trading level in almost three months.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (P)—A moderate decline was the stock market's reaction Friday to a boost in the discount rate to the highest level in 21 years.

As an anti-inflationary measure, the Federal Reserve Board, after the close Thursday, approved an increase to 2 1/4 from 2 1/8 per cent in the charges made by federal reserve banks for their loans to commercial banks.

These higher interest rates usually are passed on by the commercial banks to their customers. Right after the close of the stock market Friday, two large New York banks raised their rates on brokers loans by 1/4 of 1 percentage point.

Many in Wall Street had expected the stock market to fall rather sharply Friday as it did early in August when the discount rate was increased the last time.

Prices worked lower from the start, but there was no great amount of selling. Near the close, a sinking spell hit some leaders, but it didn't have time to spread before the closing bell.

Most prices changed around 3/4 at the outside either way.

The Associated Press average of 50 stocks was off 80 cents at $179.00. On Aug. 4 the loss in the average was $2.40 after the discount rate was boosted.

The industrial component of the average Friday was off $1.10 and rails were down $1.00. Utilities remained unchanged.

Business amounted to 2,320,000 shares as against 2,310,000 Thursday.

The American Stock Exchange was slightly lower. Volume was 810,000 shares as against 790,000.

GRAINS END WITH GAINS REFLECTING SHORT COVERING

By WILLIAM FERRIS

CHICAGO (P)—All grains ended with gains on the Board of Trade Friday, partly reflecting some weekend short covering by professional traders.

The market was mixed at the start. Feed grains firmed but wheat and rye were irregular while soybeans eased. From the first hour on the trend was up. Soybeans were last to come ahead but they bounced up briskly in the last few minutes.

Wheat closed 1/4 lower to 3/4 higher, corn 3/4-1 1/2 higher, oats 1/4-1/2 higher, rye unchanged to 1/4 higher, soybeans 1/2 to 3 cents higher and lard 7 to 52 cents a hundred pounds lower.

Corn futures reflected a firming trend in cash grain. In the spot market corn gained 1/2 to 2 cents despite arrival of 325 cars. No. 2 yellow was quoted at $1.16 1/2, best price of the week. Some Iowa buyers were seeking corn in western Illinois, according to trade reports.

Harvesting of the corn crop is now finished, except for isolated areas.

A somewhat firmer tone in cash bean meal was a late help to soybeans. Trading in the November contract ended and there was some last minute short covering, forcing up the price 3 cents. Japan bought 160,000 bushels of soybeans.

November lard reversed the trend of November soybeans, closing out weak.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK MARKET REPORT

CHICAGO (P)—Hog prices dropped to another new low for the past 14 years Friday, butchers falling 25 to 50 cents while soys sold steady to 25 cents lower.

Butchers scaling 240 to 280 brought $11.00 to $11.60 while soys were taken at $9.50 to $11.00. Salable receipts totaled 13,000.

Steers and heifers were quoted nominally steady in the cattle section. A few good and choice steers and heifers sold at $17.00 to $20.00. Salable receipts totaled 1,000 head, mostly cows.

COLD WEATHER STARTS

DUCKS WINGING SOUTHWARD

HAVANA, ILL. (P)—Cold weather has sent about 200,000 ducks flying southward but they still number 2,050,000 in the state, Frank Bellrose, game specialist of the Illinois Natural History Survey, reported Friday.

Bellrose said there has been an unusually early exodus of pintails, bluebills and canvasbacks. At present, 64 per cent of the ducks in the state are in the Illinois Valley, 12 per cent in the Mississippi Valley, 23 per cent in southern Illinois and 1 per cent elsewhere.

Bellrose said one more big flight of mallards from South Dakota is expected in Illinois before the season ends. He said hunting this year has been better than average because of favorable weather and food conditions in many areas.

OLDEST PRESIDENT

William Henry Harrison, who was 68 years old when he was inaugurated, was the oldest president of the United States. He died exactly one month later and thus served the shortest term in history.

Carried 66 GI's Homeward Bound For Thanksgiving

three small children, as they escaped with only bruises. McGrath, the 29-year-old father and husband, was listed as missing and presumed dead.

He had joined the airline only a month ago and was flying to Florida as a reserve pilot and passenger.

The crash occurred about two miles southwest of the takeoff field. It was on a hill that rises across the Duwamish River.

It came as the area's first hard snowstorm of the season was easing off.

The crash was the fourth major one in the West in six weeks and the second within less than 24 hours.

An Air Force C34 crashed Thursday in Nevada with 14 aboard. There was no indication of any survivors.

A westbound United Air Lines DC4 crashed and killed 66 persons on Medicine Bow Peak, Wyoming, Oct. 6.

On Nov. 1, a United Air Lines DC6B crashed and killed the 44 aboard near Longmont, Colo., after a homemade bomb exploded aboard it in flight.

The Army said the injured included Cpl. F. P. St. Louis, 116 N. Bourland Ave., Peoria, Ill., who is hospitalized, and Pfc. D. E. Schewmaker, Rt. 6, Paris, Ill., who was treated for minor injuries and released.

Editors Condemn Government's Withholding Facts

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (P)—

The Associated Press Managing Editors Assn. Friday adopted a resolution condemning "governmental secrecy that is withholding from American citizens facts about their own government that they are entitled to know."

The resolution authorized the APME's "officers and committees to resist and oppose censorship and secrecy that threatens the people's right to know, wherever and whenever encountered."

It specified that APME action in this field must be "consistent with the nonpartisan and nonpolitical character of this organization."

The resolution said APME "deplores the fact that executive order 10-501 promulgated in 1953 for the handling of material involving military security, still permits civilian agencies not entitled to these powers to exercise classifying authority, allows too large a delegation of power, sets up no adequate system of continuous review of classifying operations and provides no penalties for military or civilian abuse of classifying powers to conceal or withhold information that can be safely released."

The resolution was adopted by voice vote by some 280 managing editors attending the annual APME convention here. There was scattered dissent.

NAME LEEDON HEAD OF NLRB

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (P)—President Eisenhower Friday named a new chairman and a new member of the National Labor Relations Board, the agency which administers the Taft-Hartley Law.

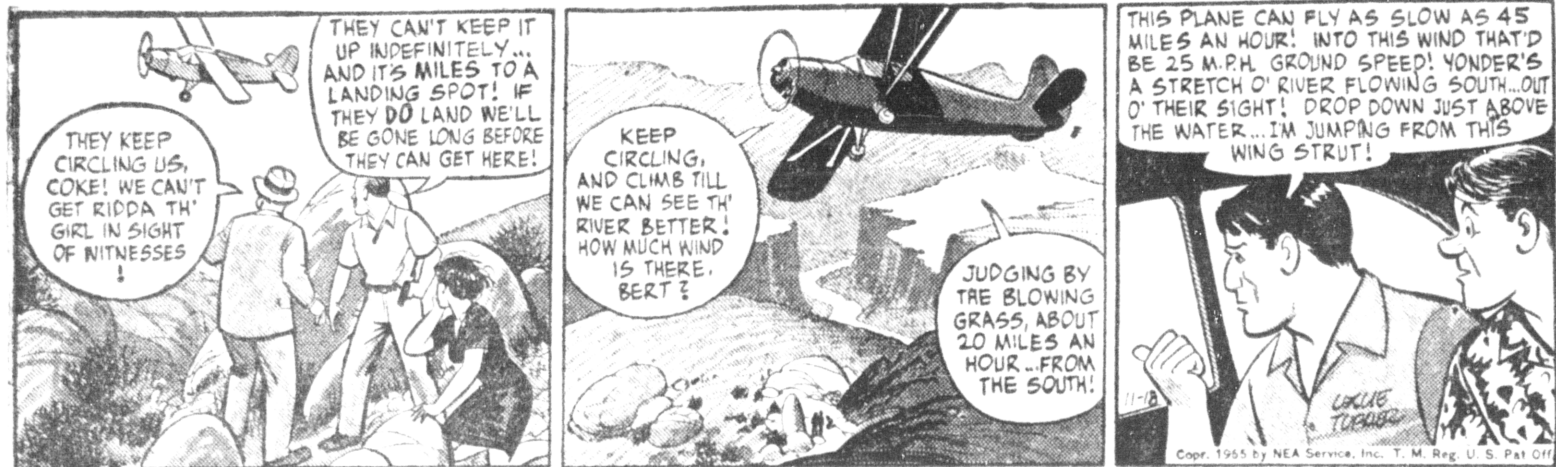

Boyd Leedon, 49, an NLRB member since last April, was designated as chairman. A Republican, he is former justice of the South Dakota Supreme Court.

Stephen Sibley Ben, 63, Massachusetts Republican, was appointed to a vacancy on the five-man board. Ben has been an NLRB trial examiner.

Religious Christmas Pageant Planned Here

At a meeting last week of businessmen, ministers, and representatives of service and women's organizations, it was unanimously decided to stage a huge Christmas Pageant on or about December 17.

The Pageant will consist of numerous floats, each depicting a religious scene appropriate for the Christmas season.

The floats will be built by various church groups, business and industrial organizations, and other organizations, some of whom have already announced their intention of participating.

An advisory committee will submit suggested float themes so that there will be no duplication.

John Linebaugh, chairman of the Jacksonville Associated Merchants Division of the Chamber of Commerce, stated that the purpose of the Pageant would be to present the true meaning of Christmas without any commercialization connotation.

At the meeting the following chairmen were named to make the arrangements for the Pageant: General chairman, Bub Duncan, Mrs. Denise Miller; banks and choirs, Jewell Mann; veterans organization floats, Robert Reid; Churches and religious floats, Rev. Joseph Baus; service organization floats, Norman Carlson; schools and college floats, Clarendon Smith; retail organization floats, John Bonke; industrial floats, Harvey Green; service club floats, Elmer Lukeman; women's club floats, Miss Thelma Bacon; civic employee floats, Fred Ritzkus; advisory committee, Rev. Tracy, Rev. Doss, Rev. Miller; publicity, John Prickett and parade marshal, John Linebaugh.

A luncheon meeting has been scheduled for Monday noon, Nov. 28, at the Dunlap hotel. Any interested representative of a business, industry, service club, church, or other organization is welcome.

Reservations may be made by calling the Chamber of Commerce office, phone 10.

Red Blockade Of West Berlin Seems Imminent

BERLIN (AP)—Twin threats against blockade-conscious West Berlin were posed Friday by Communist East Germany.

First, the Communists ordered a crackdown on Western motorists who drive "carelessly" on the highways leading through Communist territory to the isolated city.

Second, West Berlin officials said the Communists have closed down the main ship canal leading to West Germany and the Ruhr area.

Western sources said the Communists blamed the canal shutdown on a "mechanical defect" and promised to reopen it Sunday.

The life of isolated West Berlin depends a great deal upon the free flow of traffic on the Communist-controlled canal. It was too early to tell whether there was any political motive behind the canal closing. West Berlin shippers took a wait-and-see attitude.

There was no indication whether the new developments would be merely another cold war harassment or the forerunner of a full-fledged blockade.

QUARLES: A-WEAPONS MAY IMPOSE PEACE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of the Air Force Quarles said Friday the world "may have already arrived at a state of deadlock in which atomic weapons themselves impose a peace upon mankind."

Quarles told the National Press Club in a luncheon address that this imposed peace "may well prove to be more reliable than the states of peace the world has tried to achieve in the past."

Original Membership 24

The Arenzville Methodist church was organized as The Methodist Episcopal Church of Arenzville by Rev. A. C. Hunter of Concord in 1894-1895 with a membership of 24. The Methodists worshipped from 1895 until 1905 in what is now the Presbyterian church. At that time it was a union church and was used by any denomination.

In 1905 under the leadership of Rev. T. A. Adams, the present church building was erected, with Rev. Adams, John L. Weeks and Charles E. Williamson as the building committee.

The lot was donated by William Arenz. At that time the membership was 43. The large stained glass windows were given by Mrs. Ada Saylor, in memory of her husband; the Ladies Aid; the building committee and the Junior League. This church was dedicated on Oct. 29, 1905.

In these fifty golden years of service, the church has grown from the 24 charter members to 152 members. Two charter members, Mrs. Florence Kloker and Mrs. Katherine Wood, remain active members of the original 24 at the time of organization in 1895.

Mrs. Kloker, Mrs. Wood, Mrs. Emma Dahman, Mrs. Cora Burrus and Miss Anna Green are active members of the 43 at the time of building in 1905.

The Arenzville Methodist church has always been a part of the Concord Circuit. Twenty-five pastors have served the church since its organization in 1895.

Collision On West College Involves Four Automobiles

Four cars were involved in a chain collision on West College avenue opposite the Kroger store Friday evening about 5:30.

The investigating officers from the local police force, officers Jarvis and McGee, reported that a 1948 Pontiac driven by James H. Ogle was going east on West College when a 1952 Nash driven by L. A. Wagey pulled out from the Kroger parking lot.

The two machines collided in the middle of the street damaging the Pontiac in the front and the Nash on the right door. The Pontiac then careened off the side of the Nash and struck a parked 1953 Pontiac driven by Garold S. Gilleland, which then jumped forward and struck the rear end of a 1949 Plymouth driven by Chester R. Smith.

Damage to the first two cars was serious enough to require towing to a garage. The '48 Pontiac was towed to the Brummett Garage and the Nash was towed to the Lukeman Garage. The other two autos were able to leave the scene of the accident under their own power.

The '53 Pontiac was damaged in both the front and rear ends and the Plymouth sustained damage to the back bumper.

There were no injuries. All those involved in the accident were local residents.

The Methodists worshipped from 1895 until 1905 in what is now the Presbyterian church. At that time it was a union church and was used by any denomination.

In 1905 under the leadership of Rev. T. A. Adams, the present church building was erected, with Rev. Adams, John L. Weeks and Charles E. Williamson as the building committee.

The lot was donated by William Arenz. At that time the membership was 43. The large stained glass windows were given by Mrs. Ada Saylor, in memory of her husband; the Ladies Aid; the building committee and the Junior League. This church was dedicated on Oct. 29, 1905.

In these fifty golden years of service, the church has grown from the 24 charter members to 152 members. Two charter members, Mrs. Florence Kloker and Mrs. Katherine Wood, remain active members of the original 24 at the time of organization in 1895.

Mrs. Kloker, Mrs. Wood, Mrs. Emma Dahman, Mrs. Cora Burrus and Miss Anna Green are active members of the 43 at the time of building in 1905.

The Arenzville Methodist church has always been a part of the Concord Circuit. Twenty-five pastors have served the church since its organization in 1895.

CHICAGO (AP)—Madame Maria Meneghini-Callas fled to the safety of foreign soil Friday—leaving in her wake an angry tangle of process servers.

The prima donna of the Lyric Theater company boarded a Trans-Canada plane for the first leg of a trip that will eventually take her to Milan, Italy — and presumably away from the troubles of a court suit.

The diva had just concluded a performance of "Madame Butterfly" Thursday night and was on her way to her dressing room when the first of eight process servers appeared. It was her final performance with the Lyric Theater and she looked radiant with the tribute paid her by an adoring audience.

The sight of the process servers changed that.

She let loose with some soprano volleys, in English and Italian, that added up to an unkind opinion of the process servers.

"I will not be served!" she cried. "I have the voice of an angel! No man can serve me!"

As Deputy U.S. Marshal Stanley Pringle approached her, she cried out: "Don't touch me, don't touch me! Chicago will be sorry for this!"

Pringle said he did touch her with a summons. That constitutes legal service. He had a pained look on his face as he walked from the soprano who was still giving wide-mouthed vent to her vexation.
